New Novels, at all the Libraries.

MRS. LINTON'S NEW NOVEL.—3 volumes, crown 8vo.

ATONEMENT OF LEAM DUNDAS.

By E. LYNN LINTON, Author of "Patricia Kemball," &c.
"Far above the average of the novels of the present season. Indeed it may be asserted—and of how few fictions can this be said—that no one who peruses it will think he has altogether wasted his time." —Athenaeum.

"In her narrowness and her depth, in her boundless wealth of self-forgetting passion, that exclusiveness of love which is akin to cruelty, and the fierce humility which is vicious pride, Leam Dundas is a striking figure. In one quality the authoress has in some measure surpassed herself." —Pall Mall Gazette.

"Sad and tragic, and wonderfully pathetic. Mrs. Lynn Linton has again proved herself a powerful writer, and this novel is perhaps more forcibly conceived, more carefully wrought out, and more perfectly finished, than any of her preceding works." —Literary World.

Three vols. crown 8vo.

THE DEMOCRACY.

A Novel. By WHYTE THORNE.

"A very careful, and in many respects very praiseworthy story." —Saturday Review.

NEW NOVEL by Dr. SANDWITH, OF KARS.

Three vols. crown 8vo.

MINSTER BOROUGH.

A Tale of English Life.

By HUMPHRY SANDWITH, C.B., D.C.L.

"It is long since we have read anything so refreshing." —Athenaeum.

JEAN MIDDLEMASS'S NEW NOVEL.—3 vols. crown 8vo.

MR. DORILLION: a Novel.

By JEAN MIDDLEMASS, Author of "Wild George," "Lil," &c.

"A decidedly amusing and exciting novel." —Morning Post.

Large post 8vo, with Hundreds of Wood Engravings and Five Coloured Plates, from Mr. Thackeray's Original Drawings, cloth, full gilt, gilt top, 12s. 6d.

THACKERAYANA:

NOTES AND ANECDOTES.

Illustrated by a profusion of Sketches by WILLIAM MAKEPEACE THACKERAY depicting Humorous Incidents in his School-life, and Facsimiles of his Books in his everyday reading.

"An admirable addition, not only to his collected works, but also to any memoir of him that has been, or that is likely to be, written." —British Quarterly Review.

Demy 8vo, cloth extra, Photographic Portrait and Illustrations, 12s.

MEMORIALS of the late

Rev. ROBERT STEPHEN HAWKER,

Sometime Vicar of Morwenstow, in the Diocese of Exeter.

By the Rev. FREDERICK GEORGE LEE, D.C.L.

"Dr. Lee's Memorials is a far better record of Mr. Hawker, and gives a more reverent and more true idea of the man.... Dr. Lee rightly confines himself to his proper subject." —Athenaeum.

NEW EDITION of CATLIN'S WORKS.

2 vols. imperial 8vo, with the Plates beautifully Printed in Colours, extra cloth gilt, price 3s. 3d.

CATLIN'S ILLUSTRATIONS of the MANNERS, CUSTOMS, and CONDITION of the NORTH AMERICAN INDIANS.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.
E P P S ' S C O C O A .

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cacao, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctor's bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—See article in the Civil Service Gazette.

THE POETICAL WORKS OF ROBERT BUCHANAN.

Each Volume is complete in itself and sold separately, the First with a Steel Portrait of the Author. These Volumes contain the Works previously published under the Titles of "UNDER-TONES," "IDYLS and LEGENDS OF INVERBURN," "LONDON POEMS," "BOOK of ORM," &c., &c., together with much matter now printed for the first time.

NOTICES OF THIS EDITION.

"We feel the pathos of his trust in that unseen beneficence of which his poetry is designed to be the reverential vindication. If Mr. Buchanan dreads the effacement of the Celt in the Greek he yet cannot always divest himself of a perhaps unconscious kinship with Aschylus."—Saturday Review.

"To our mind, after long knowledge of some of these poems, they seem to us nearly perfect of their kind, realistic and idealistic alike in the highest sense. Nor has the voice of dumb wistful yearning in man towards something higher, of yearning such as the brute creation seemed to show in the Greek period towards the human, found as yet any interpreter equal to Mr. Buchanan."—Spectator.

"Few understand like Buchanan how to fathom and interpret the nature of woman. That in Buchanan's breast the heart of the people beats, that he knows how to feel with the poor and suffering, and has surrounded their feelings, thoughts, and habits with new gleams of poesy, are facts which forbid that he should ever become a 'drawing-room poet'—a poet for fine ladies. He is so much the sincerer of our sympathy and our admiration."—Die Wage Berlin.

"By students of poetry this collected edition of the works of a true poet will be warmly welcomed and prized."—Nonconformist

Just published, in 2 vols. 8vo, with Portrait, price 28s.

THE LIFE, WORKS, and OPINIONS of HEINRICH HEINE. By WILLIAM STIGAND, Author of "Athens, or the First Crusade."

"If Mr. Stigand had done nothing more in the work before us than give English readers an opportunity of forming some estimate of this extraordinary writer, he would have done a great service to literature. Much of Heine's peculiar flavour must be lost to readers unacquainted with German, but he is so great a name in literature that even English readers will often turn to him. They will find in Mr. Stigand's pages a very full account of Heine's life, together with extracts from his works sufficiently copious to enable them to judge of their quality for themselves. Mr. Stigand is evidently enamoured of his subject, and has spared no industry to make his work worthy of it. We have quoted more freely from the author's own words like the present from Heine's own writings, because it is impossible to convey an adequate notion of the variety of Heine's gifts, of the felicity of his language, of the richness of his wit, the depth of his penetration, and of the brilliancy of his imagination, without copious extracts."

THE NATIONAL BYRON MONUMENT.

By order of the Committee, the following RULES are laid down for the guidance of those who may be desirous of undertaking the EXECUTION of the STATUE of Lord Byron —

1. That the Memorial will ultimately be erected in the Green Park, opposite to the site of Peculiarity Terrace.

2. That Artists from all parts of Europe and from America are invited to compete.

3. That the Statue of Lord Byron be colossal, upon an appropriate pedestal.

4. What the material will be either hard Sicilian marble, Pentelic marble, or bronze.

5. That Sketch Models for the Design be upon the scale of Quarter size. They must in every instance be sent prepaid. Artists from abroad are requested to communicate with one of the Correspondents named below, of whom the necessary labels and full information may be obtained.

Artists residing in the United Kingdom are requested to apply for information as to the transit of Models direct to Messrs. McCracken, 38 Queen Street, Cannon Street, E.C.

7. That there will be a Public Exhibition, in the month of October next, at the South Kensington Museum, of all Models offered for competition, which will be passed by a Committee of Selection, which will meet the approval of Competitors.

8. It is indispensable that the Sketch Models reach London on or before the 1st October, 1876.

9. That though it is impossible to name the exact sum which will be at the disposal of the Committee, it is certain that at least 3,000/- will be available for the purpose of erecting a Monument to Lord Byron.

(Third Thousand.)

This volume will be welcome to a large and growing circle."
British Quarterly Review.
"We conclude by thanking the author very heartily for this very complete gallery of illustrations and guide to a biography which will long hold its place amongst the best works in this department of literature."—Record.

"The additional letters from the pen of Mrs. Augustus Hare are marked by the fitness of thought, the spiritual exaltation, and peculiar sentiment observable in the previous volumes. Nothing has been given to the public than we have here since some of the delightful passages of 'Eugénie de Guérin.'—Nonconformist.

"Those who possess the first two volumes will prize this supplementa-lary volume, as it adds much to their interest."—Tablet.

READERS. By A. H. GREEN, M.A., Professor of Geology in the Yorkshire College of Science. Part I.—The Elements of Physical Geology. With 140 Illustrations. Crown 8vo, 12s. 6d.

"We are bound to recommend this as one of the most comprehensive works which have recently appeared."—Athenaeum.

"Professor Green is singularly fitted for the task he has undertaken.
Now are we disappointed. The gold and the silver glitter in every chapter, but as for the stubble, though we have sought it with diligence, we have failed to find it."—Academy.

loving brother and a faithful biographer."—Times.

"There is throughout these volumes a freedom from cant and sentimentality that is rare in the biography of a popular divine."— Athenaeum.

"A memoir worthy of the subject. It may well do for Scotland what Dr. Stanley's Life of Arnold did for England."—Spectator.

"There is in it a sense of vivid reality and of close personal contact, which is a rare quality in this branch of literature."—Saturday Review.

AUGUSTUS RAYMOND MARGARY'S JOUR-

NEY from SHANGHAE to BHAMO, and back to MANWYNE. Edited from his Journals and Letters, with a Brief Biographical Preface; a Concluding Chapter by Sir RUTHERFORD ALCOCK, K.C.B.; a Steel Portrait engraved by C. H. Jeens, and Route Map.

"Augustus Raymond Margary was one of those young men of whom England may well be proud. Selected to perform a most responsible and perilous duty, he accomplished it with great success....and traversed vast regions hitherto untrodden by Europeans....To Mr. Margary's appointment we are indebted for this most interesting book."—Times, June 27.

"The publishers of this volume are to be congratulated on the improved form in which they have laid before the public the narrative of a blameless life and a noble career, and on having secured as editor one who had a personal acquaintance with Mr. Margary, and who is so well able to appreciate both the dangers of his journey and the persistent bravery and tact that enabled him to overcome the many difficulties which beset his path."—Athenaeum.

The GEOGRAPHICAL DISTRIBUTION of ANIMALS. With a Study of the Relations of Living and Extinct Faunas, as elucidating the Past Changes of the Earth's Surface. By ALFRED R. WALLACE, Author of "The Malay Archipelago," &c. With Coloured Maps and numerous Illustrations by Zwecker. 2 vols. 8vo, 42s.

"Mr. Wallace has already registered many claims on the gratitude of naturalists present and future. In their interest he has explored the tropics of the east and the wildernesses of the west, and has brought home numberless novelties. He has written one of the best and most instructive books of naturalists' travels ever yet issued. He was, as is well known, the joint-inventor with Mr. Darwin of the theory of 'Natural Selection.' But beyond all these scientific feats—and they are no mean ones—he has accomplished a task that will extend his fame even more widely amongst those who love science, as the author of the first sound treatise on zoological geography."—Nature.

Also the LIBRARY EDITION, in 4 vols. demy 8vo, 75s., with Index. These volumes not sold separately. The Index, 8vo size, separately, 3s. 6d.

THE TIMES.
 "A work of the very highest merit; its learning is exact and profound; its narrative full of genius and skill; its descriptions of men are admirably vivid. We wish to place on record our opinion that Dr. Mommsen's is by far the best history of the Decline and Fall of the Roman Commonwealth."

EDINBURGH REVIEW.

"Taking the author's complete mastery of his subject, the variety of his gifts and acquirements, his graphic power in the delineation of natural and individual character, and the vivid interest which he inspires in every portion of his book, he is without an equal in his own sphere."

BY PROFESSOR CURTIUS.
THE HISTORY OF GREECE.

VOL. XI. SAME PERIOD, 1633-1663.—William Laud, William Juxon.

"Written with remarkable knowledge and power. The Author has done his work diligently and conscientiously. Throughout, we see a man who has known much of men and of life—the pure Anglican divine who at every step has been accustomed to make good his cause against the Romish party, and again to vindicate his cause on the other. We express our sense of the value of this work. We heartily like the general spirit, and are sure that the author has bestowed upon his work a loving labour, with an earnest desire to find out the truth. To the general reader it will convey much information in a very pleasant form; to the student it will give the means of filling up the outlines of Church history with life and colour."

Quarterly Review, July, 1862.
 "The most impartial, the most instructive, and the most interesting of histories."—Athenaeum.

Just published, scale, 3 miles to an inch.

LARGE-SCALE RAILWAY and STATION

MAP of ENGLAND and WALES. In 24 Sheets (sold separately). Constructed on the Basis of the Trigonometrical Survey. By ARROWSMITH.

On this Map, containing upwards of 125,000 names of cities, towns, villages, &c., will be found laid down with great minuteness the various railroads, and their ramifications (the highest and lowest points, with their adiustances and tributaries), the main and bridle roads, boundaries of counties, gentlemen's seats, woods, covers, &c., as well as the distance from London of all the great towns. The railways, with their names, and the names and position of the stations, are printed in red, thus making them very distinct. The 24 sheets of the map, being sold separately, will form a valuable and useful guide for tourists.

Size of each sheet, 10. 50 inches by 20. 50; price, plain, 1s.; mounted in case, 2s. 6d.; coloured, 1s. 6d.; mounted in case, 3s.

Size of the complete map, 11. 100 inches by 12. 100; price, plain, in case or portfolio, 17. 5s.; coloured, in case or portfolio, 11. 10s.; mounted on cloth to fold, in case, coloured, 4s. 6d.; on canvas, roller, and varnished, 1s. 6d.; mounted on rollers, 9s. 6d.

Portions of the map, forming excellent district maps, are also to be had, coloured, and mounted on rollers, varnished, from 1s. 5s. to 2s. 10s.

Any sheet or number of sheets, to form Special Maps, can be supplied mounted to order, in case or on rollers.

Catalogue containing Index Map may be had on application, or by post for one shilling.

THE NEW NOVELS.

MRS. OLIPHANT'S NEW NOVEL.

PHÆBE JUNIOR: A Last Chronicle of Carlingford. By Mrs. OLIPHANT. SECOND EDITION. 3 vols.

"This novel shows great knowledge of human nature. The interest goes on growing to the end. Phæbe is excellently drawn."—Times.

"Altogether this 'Last Chronicle of Carlingford' not merely takes rank fairly beside the first which introduced us to Salem Chapel, but surpasses it in the intermediate records. Phæbe Junior herself is admirably drawn."—Academy.

"This is a clever book, and will be read with interest by all who can appreciate character. Phæbe herself is capital."—Athenaeum.

AS LONG AS SHE LIVED. By F. W. ROBINSON, Author of "Grandmother's Money," &c. 3 vols.

"As Long as She Lived" cannot fail to be read with pleasure. Taking story style, the skill and manner in which the plot is worked out, and the life and truth of the characters, there are few novels in our language which may be accorded a higher rank."—Court Journal.

UP TO THE MARK. By Mrs. Day, Author of "From Birth to Bridal," &c. 3 vols.

"In every respect a satisfactory novel. We find in it considerable advance in constructive skill, and a bolder dash into varieties of life and character than in Mrs. Day's former novels."—Spectator.

HEARTS of CORONETS. By Alice King, Author of "Queen of Herself," &c. 3 vols.

"A charming novel. It deserves success."—Post.
